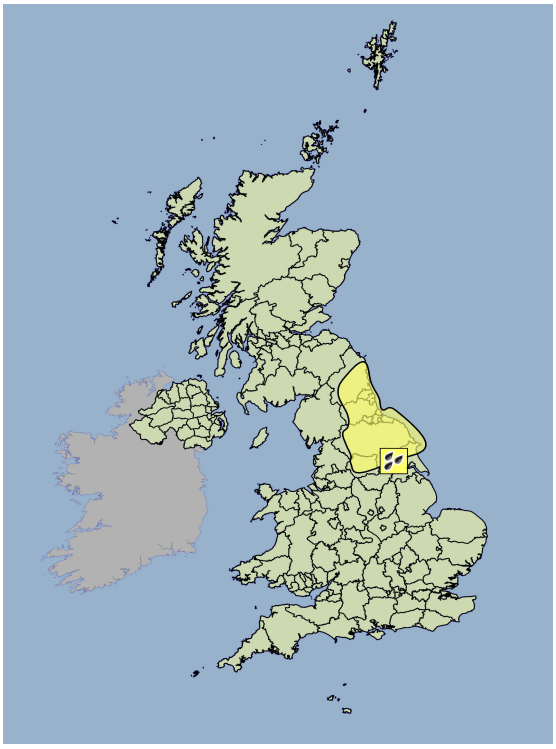
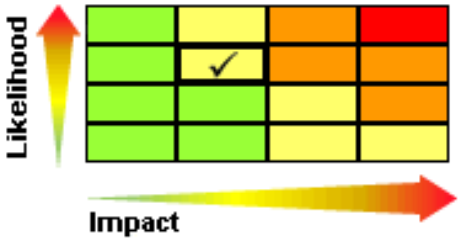
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Further thundery showers will affect many northern parts of the UK today. Though not expected to be as widespread or as heavy as yesterday, there remains the potential for 20-30 mm of rain in just a few hours in places, which may give rise to some surface water flooding.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 13:00 on Tue, 30th Jul 2013 until 21:00 on Tue, 30th Jul 2013

Scattered heavy showers and thunderstorms will affect parts of Yorkshire and North East England this afternoon and this evening before dying out later.

The public should be aware of the potential for disruption due to surface water flooding.
